The Office of the Legislative Auditor General Releases Report UCA Improving Controls After Fraud Discovered

Salt Lake City, UTAH –

Yesterday, the Office of the Legislative Auditor General (OLAG) released its Report - UCA Improving Controls After Fraud Discovered.

Utah State Auditor John Dougall said, “I appreciate the thoughtful audit by the Office of the Legislative Auditor General regarding audit engagements in 2010 and 2011. It highlights the fact that financial statement audits aren’t designed to detect many fraudulent circumstances. I value opportunities for continuous improvement. Since 2013, the Office has implemented many changes to improve audit procedures to help detect and mitigate fraud. Earlier this year, we began stressing the importance of reviewing source documentation. Our Office continues to strengthen our training of governing boards and management to help them in their financial oversight responsibilities including training for local governments and auditors of local governments to improve the awareness of credit card and purchase card risks as well as other types of fraud. Finally, the Office has also worked with the State Division of Finance (Finance) regarding procedures and internal controls related to the use of purchase cards.”
