The Garfield County ATV/OHV Route Map was made possible by the cooperative efforts and funding from Garfield County, the Division of Utah State Parks & Recreation, and the State of Utah Automated Geographic Reference Center.

GARFIELD COUNTY ATV & OHV ROUTE MAP

Garfield County is 5270 square miles located in south central Utah and home to over 3000 miles of the most scenic ATV/OHV routes in the world. Our red rock and slick rock formations, verdant forests, and spectacular deserts await your exploration.

Some of the routes on this map were established by early pioneers in their quest for fertile land to raise cattle, crops, and their families. In later times, timber harvesting, mining exploration, and recreation were the economic drivers to gain access to the more remote areas.

As you explore and enjoy our county by ATV/OHV, you will be travelling through or to public lands managed by the Dixie National Forest, the Fishlake National Forest, the Bureau of Land Management, the National Park Service, and Utah State Parks.

NOT FOR SALE

REGIONS 3 & 4

of the vehicle is a resident. Utah law requires any non Utah resident who operates an Off-Highway Vehicle on any public land, trail, street, or highway in Utah must pay an annual Off-Highway Vehicle or Street Legal registration fee. - 5. VEHICLE EQUIPMENT REQUIREMENT:

 - b. All traffic and other safety laws and rules apply to operation of off-highway vehicles, including the prohibited use of said vehicles while under the influence of alcohol or drugs (UCA 41-6-44), and violations of such laws and regulations shall be subject to those same penalties under Utah State Law.
 - c. No person may operate an off-highway vehicle in connection with acts of vandalism, harassment of wildlife or domestic animals, burglaries, other crimes, damage to the environment which includes excessive pollution of air, water, or land, abuse of the water shed, impairment of plant or animal life, or excessive noise.

IMPORTANT USER INFORMATION

Every effort was made to ensure the accuracy of this map. The map complies with Garfield County's OHV Ordinance. In order to avoid any potential conflicts, please check with the local City, County, State and Federal Land Management Agencies to verify compliance with regulations, ordinances, and current designations.

Travel at your own risk. The routes on this map are graphical representations to be used for travel planning purposes only. Most of the routes on this map are roads of varying widths and surfaces including two tracks, native soil, gravel, or paved. Route conditions and designations are always subject to change. Please obtain current route information prior to travel.

The Garfield County OHV Route System provides riding opportunities into the world class landscapes of Southern Utah's canyons and plateaus. Routes are mapped for clarity and ease of use. However, since the routes traverse lands managed by different agencies, the rules vary from one location to another.

These routes will take you through or to public lands managed by the State of Utah, Dixie National Forest, Bureau of Land Management (BLM) Field Offices, Grand Staircase-Escalante National Monument, National Park Service, and Utah State Parks. Each agency has rules designed to protect public resources which vary by agency and sometimes by season. Where routes go through towns, trailsheads and designated OHV routes may be established to provide access to services. Please use only the designated routes in these towns.

Regulations can vary between agencies and between seasons including: campfire regulations, camping permits, group size limits, and designated campsites. Collection of natural objects (plant and animal material, rocks, fossils, petrified wood) requires a special permit on most of these lands. Some OHV routes are restricted to vehicles with 50 inch maximum width.

The Bureau of Land Management and the Forest Service are currently revising their Resource and Travel Management Plans. Once the revision process is complete, there may be changes to OHV area designations and routes. This could result in future changes to the information shown on this map.

Each rider is responsible for knowing the rules that apply to the lands they are using. It is important to be informed before riding. You can get information on regulations from agency websites (listed on this map), agency brochures and publications, or at the visitor centers shown on this map.

SAFETY CONSIDERATIONS:

BE PREPARED...
Plan ahead. The weather can change rapidly.

Carry all necessary supplies including an emergency repair kit, food, water, and warm clothing. Carry at least 1 gallon of water per person per day. Even on day rides bring emergency gear for spending a night out if necessary.

Develop a supply checklist to include the above items and other equipment such as area maps and guides, protective gear, flashlight, sunscreen, etc.

Know what to wear. Quality helmets, gloves, boots, goggles, and protective clothing will keep you comfortable and help prevent serious injuries.

Know your vehicle. Keep it in good condition and read the owner's manual.

Travel with other people.

Know before leaving what to do in an emergency. Cell phone service is not guaranteed.

Always let a responsible person know: where you are going; what route you intend to use; and when you plan to return.

A responsible rider should follow these simple guidelines:

- > Respect all private and public property and the rights of all recreationists to enjoy nature.
- > Share the Trails - Wheels Yield to Heels
- > Keep to the right when meeting other recreationists and yield the right-of-way to downhill traffic.
- > Slow down and use caution when approaching or overtaking another.
- > Travel only where motorized vehicles are permitted.
- > Respect designated areas, trail use signs and established ski tracks. Stay out of wilderness areas.
- > Do not block the trail when stopping.
- > Do not disturb wildlife. Avoid all areas posted for their protection or feeding.
- > Do not litter. Pack out everything you pack in.

Please tread lightly and travel only on routes and in areas designated open for motor vehicle use. Remember, Respected Access is Open Access.
